

TORRES DE SATÉLITE

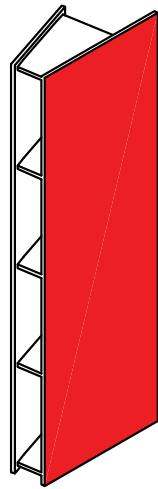

NEL reincarnate the Torres de Satélite (Mexico City's 'Satellite Towers') as five trapezoidal bookshelves of the same name. The pieces in birch and walnut plywood feature a coloured side surface that refers to the ones chosen by artists Mathias Goeritz and Chucho Reyes for the original towers.

Design: NEL colectivo.

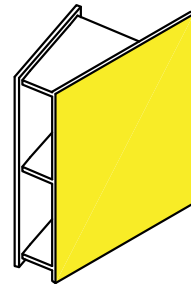

Year: 2008

Participants: Ricardo Casas, Alejandro Castro, Héctor Esrawe, Emiliano Godoy, Cecilia León de la Barra

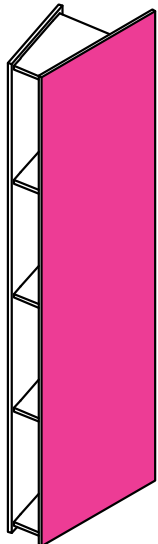

Material: plywood with walnut veneer.
